

The benefits of OTC membership. Keep the OTC working for you!

Conferences

The OTC hosts a number of conferences each year bringing together Ontario's traffic professional community. The June AGM will mark our 60th anniversary.

Research Publications

Last year we began work on Ontario Traffic Manual Book 15—Pedestrian Crossings. This manual will be completed this fall. New projects to follow!

Policy and Positions

This past year the OTC presented on our industry's behalf to government on topics such as the distracted driver legislation and the regulation of e-bikes.

Training Sessions

Our training offers relevant, low-cost training to our members. This includes Book 7, Transportation Impact Study review and many other training courses.

Keeping you updated

OTC member communications include the monthly Radar newsletter, our quarterly OT Magazine and updates on the website and on Twitter anytime.

www.otc.org

The OTC website is home to our Discussion Board, our event sign-up page and Career Centre. We will be upgrading our website to serve you even better in 2010.

Committees

Our 5 core committees (Enforcement, Parking, Engineering, Planning and Traffic Training) are a great way for member involvement in the development of the OTC.

Supplier Showcases

Several events provide our members the chance to see the latest traffic products and ideas. Our AGM and Parking Workshop will include a vendor trade show.

Enforcement Training

The OTC runs several courses each year for traffic enforcement professionals. These include the weeklong Police Supervisors course as well as our 3-day MLEO training.

Supporting a Leader

Your OTC membership supports an organization that has championed Engineering, Education and Enforcement since 1950. Thanks for your support in building traffic's voice in Ontario.
